SafeRoutes
 National Center for Safe Routes to School

Congratulations to the Safe Routes to school students at Julia Landon College Preparatory. Over the past two years, the students have designed a safe infrastructure that will encourage more students to walk or ride their bike to school. Look for construction to begin in early 2014. E-mail Laura Skiles for more information about the Safe Routes to School Program in Jacksonville.

Happening Today: Duval County Food Policy Council Meeting

Were you a part of the inaugural Duval County Food Policy Council Summit last year? The Council is convening a host committee for the 2013 Duval County Food Summit: A Balancing Act: Access to Fresh and Healthy Food for All. Join the committee, today from 5:15 - 6:30 p.m., to help shape the direction of the Summit and ensure that all residents in Jacksonville have equal access to fresh food. Contact Healthy Jacksonville to sign up to receive information about the Summit.

>WHAT IS AHEAD?

Our Vision for Jacksonville in 2025

Join Jacksonville's healthy visioners for the release of the JAX2025 report. The report reflects more than six months of work and the collective vision of thousands of First Coast residents who have built a vision for Jacksonville. The final report will be released on Saturday, May 18 from 9:00 - 11:00 a.m. at EverBank Field. Register to attend the event.
